

Gisèle Laszlo

Gisèle Laszlo is a Montreal-based photographer and artist. Her work contrasts industrial landscapes with contemporary figurative narratives. Working with her own photographs on an unconventional medium such as satin, her work has a unique aesthetic that is bold and verging on surrealist.

Laszlo was raised by Argentinean and Hungarian parents, whose professions – architecture and interior design – inspired her to pursue a career in a creative field. Her studies include diplomas in fine arts and communications, in photography, as well as a in marketing.
